DIGESTS OF CURRENT NYC THEATRE REVIEWS

Rumple-Alvin- 11/4. 4 Pros- Times, News, Journal American, World Telegram & Sun- and 3 Cons- Herald Tribune, Mirror and Post filed on new musical presented by Paula Stone and Michael Sloan. All 7 NY daily critics herald Eddie Foy and Gretchen Wyler but there was a vast difference of opinion on the quality of the book by Irving Philips, the music by Ernest G Schweikert and the lyrics by Frank Reardon. Atkinson, Times, didn't think much of musical but thought it did provide a good opportunity to enjoy Foy without interruption. Chapman, News, also approved Barbara Perry, as well as Foy, in what he billed as a charming, tasteful, handsome and gently nutty musical. McClain, Journal American, billed it as an unpretentious yet professional musical in which the tunes were hummable. Trio of con votes filed because aisle-sitters admitted they enjoyed Foy but found complete evening dull. Long on fantasy and short on jokes, summed Kerr, Herald Tribune. A lacklustre musical, added Coleman, Mirror, A grave disappointment, noted Watts, Post. Journal American audience poll rated show 3 pros, no cons.

Clerambard-Rooftop-2nd Av & Houston 11/7. 4 Pros- Times, News, Post, Journal American- and 2 Cons- Herald Tribune and World Telegram & Sun- filed on Kerz-Lesley-Thomson presentation of Marcel Ayme's comedy starring Claude Dauphin. Times and Post were raves. Thanks in large part to resilience of Dauphin's acting it turns out to be an extraordinarily amusing satire, one of the most stimulating pranks of the season, cheers Atkinson, Times. Odd, sardonic and entertaining comedy, a French "Harvey" with a generally excellent cast, noted Watts, Post. McClain, Journal American, agreed with Post man that play was perfect Off Broadway fare. Cast exceptional and mounting first rate, he added. McHarry, News, thought play started slowly but ended in a stimulating evening. Con side panned heavy handed script. A lead mine of conceits, very literal foolery in which the sets have more life than the play, panned Kerr, Herald Tribune. Aston, WTS, found it a thesis, tract, intellectual pushup; but not a drama.

The Girl of the Golden West- Anderson-2nd Av & Houston- 11/5- 11/10. 2 Pros- Times and World Telegram-Sun- and 5 Cons- filed on Theatre Four revival of the 1905 David Belasco script featuring Nancy Wickwire and directed by Jerome Kilty. Times reviewer listed it as hokum and interesting mostly because of the charming performance by Wickwire. Otherwise reviewer not exactly sure why he enjoyed evening. Aston, WTS, filed a mild pro suggesting that the stylist way to enjoy the production is to go primed to laugh at a vehicle which was a real dinger in 1905. Dis-senters blamed script, direction and cast. Kerr, Herald Tribune, thought show would have been successful if director and cast had played it straight and not hoked it up. Chapman, News, doubted if script was old enough or awful enough to play straight, production needed some good old needle beer to go with it. Gilbert, Mirror, thought show might have been fun if burlesqued, but was worthless as satire. McClain, Journal American, joined Kerr, Herald Tribune, in finding the sets by John Boyt as best item. Not burlesque, not a masterpiece, summed Watts, Post.

Treasure Island-Sullivan St Playhouse 11/10. Stage for Youth week- end matinee presentation of the first few chapter's of Stevenson's tale okayed as first rate children's theatre by Herridge, Post. Combination of songs, dance, dialogue present story in a way that gives color and variety without being arty.

COMMENTS

"Fanfare" by Richard Maney (Harper $4.75) drew 2 pro votes from NY drama critics. Wenning, Newsweek, and Watts, Post, both approved the biography by the press agent. Debonair autobiography is one of the most entertaining and civilized books about the Broadway theatre the latter has ever read.

DRAMA

REPORTS

Wise management is as important, or more so, than script and stars in picking a play for production, investment syndicate heads told "Drama Desk" November meeting. Ed Spector, Theatre 200, Robert Wiener, 21 year old who invests for 100 small investors, Meyer Davis and John Gerstad and Ted Ritter of "Theatre Interests Plans" agreed. They also agreed that chances of profit from investing were dim, though Gerstad and Ritter believe their plan of spreading investments over many selected productions can increase the percentages. Davis pointed out that the average investor can get in all the flops and few of the hits, thus bringing the odds way down.

" PROS & CONS BY TMK "

BRUSSELS WARNING... There is no evading the fundamental fact that the 1958 Brussels Fair will shape up as a competition between the East and the West, points out Taubman, Times. Good as our representatives may be, they reflect too narrow a picture of our cultural standing today. Where is our theatre? The US Commissioner and the State Dept should be proclaiming our confidence in our performing arts and our readiness to accept any challenge. When the fair is under way and the Russians are getting the best notices, it will be too late.

COLUMN TIPS... Broadway producers predict a $10 top for 1958 shows, hears Walker, News... Edith Adams to return to Broadway in straight play The Love Vine hears Wilson, Post... Josh Logan would like to film "Look Back in Anger" with Marlon Brando, reports Kilgallen, Journal American... New Girl in Town chorus to continue to get $10 salary hike as long as show does over $40,000 notes Winchell, Mirror.

BAN CRITICS... Only when Off Broadway makes itself independent can it again be what it was in its finest period—the late teens and early twenties of this century, states Bentley, New Republic in "Off Broadway Showbill". He refers to a place for experimental productions of plays that are literally or virtually new. To do this he suggests the theatres not invite the critics at all, but simply inform the public via ads that the show is on.

CRITICAL THOUGHTS... Lackluster theatrical season is breaking up Broadway's boxoffice traffic jam, sums Danix, World Telegram-Sun... There has not been a single newcomer this season to stir up adjectival enthusiasm, fears Sobol, Journal American... Ellen McRae, Fair Game, has the sharp sense to do the best she can with the lines that come her way in the presence of Sam Levene and then just stand or sit there looking beautiful while he dominates, surmises Aston, World Telegram-Sun.

DRAMA MAIL BOX... If tickets are unavailable for Compulsion a Times reader suggests you see The Cave Dwellers... The 1600 matinee seats weekly provided by Joseph Papp's NY Shakespeare Festival to high school students cheered by "CD" subscriber as sole action of year aimed at encouraging new theatre fans.

INTERVIEW HI-LITES... Nancy Walker, Copper and Brass, asks if she is as divine as the critics write, then why hasn't she worked more than 8 months in the theatre in the past 3 years, she told Peper, WTS. Broadway doesn't know what to do with comics, maybe she'll be found in TV. She knows that TV is supposed to kill off comics but they run for 7 years before they are dead... No member of the overseas Porgy and Bess cast could get work in the first six months back in US, stage manager Jerry Laws told Post. Laws currently is selling autos. Less than 1% of the Negro actors in Equity can get theatre work... Kenneth Haigh, Look Back in Anger, learned to act he told McClain, Journal American, by playing Shakespeare in the bloody provinces. Though only 26 he trouped through Ireland and the English hinterlands playing Shakespeare six night a week, often with two benefits in the afternoon.

Clerambard is an inspired French farce--fantasy and fun--given a superb production by Broadway or Off Broadway standards. The entire cast believes every moment of the slightly mad story and in very short order the audience does too. The unusual ending is a theatre delight no stage struck soul should miss.

Rumple is sheer joy for the brief moments Eddie Foy is onstage. The comic has a certain class and style that the other elements and cast members do not approach. In spite of Foy and the obvious attributes of Gretchen Wyler no one can deny that the book, songs, music and dance are all second rate.

The Girl of the Golden West is the original western, but time, TV and John Wayne films have played a dirty trick on it. Instead of it being a museum relic it now appears as a bad cliché minus TV commercials. Performance styles differ widely with none seeming right and/or funny.

The 34th St department stores have discovered Broadway, but are only buying pre-sold items. This week Gimbel's bought a 7 column display ad honoring the opening of Time Remembered, while a few weeks back Macy's went whole hog with a full page display ad for Romanoff and Juliet. Both plays were, of course, fully sold in advance and really don't need the extra paid publicity. Now that the stores know that the theatre exists let them splurge and devote a full page ad to a meaty show that isn't doing too well at the box-office.

An increased theatre arts program for the US at the 1958 Brussels Worlds Fair is a necessity even though Congress didn't see it that way. It remains for individuals, wealthy and otherwise, and foundations to fill the void and present a representative theatre arts program at the world conclave. It is too bad the US theatre industry itself is not so organized that it could support such a vital international venture.

A critic attacking critics for the current state of Off Broadway is a novelty, to say the least. Keeping critics away from Off Broadway shows is not going to increase the quality, though it might certainly cut down on the quantity. Currently Off Broadway is news and even if the producers tried to ban reviewers they would have to smuggle their way into the basements, attics, etc.

Some Broadway producers more interested in the big bundle more than the good show may well become so intrigued with the cash possibilities of pay-TV that they may never produce another play on Broadway.

This weekly chart of CRITICAL DIGEST, the weekly NYC theatre newsletter digest, presents up-to-date data on current business and critical reception on current Broadway and Off-Broadway shows. Subscribers to CRITICAL DIGEST may call, write or phone for any other specific data or for late reviews.

"C"-Critical-figures refer to percentage of PRO reviews filled by NYC daily reviewers PRO means show was recommended for entertaining and/or stimulating evening, not if critic predicted if show would be hit or not.

"B"-Business-figures refer to percentage of gross ticket sales. "%B" figures refer to percentage of past week's attendance and indicates current availability of tickets. "CAP" figures refer to gross capacity of house. Figures that follow are gross estimates by Variety for past week and previous weeks. All figures are in thousands of dollars. Thus 100% B-Cap $68--$68 $64--means that past week attraction was sell-out, capacity of house is $68,000 and previous week gross was $64,000, etc.
